PRESENTATION. - Any testimonal tending to show that ones efforts are understood and appreciated, is often far more gratifying to a man than any pecuniary compensation. The article Summer Under-clothing, for gents presented is prized far beyond its mere mercantile value, and as years roll by, tity of pork and other provisions, all fond memories and delightful association the household furniture, etc. Even tions cluster around, adorning it as with a thousand rare and sparkling ises were consumed in the flames, so gems. Such a testimonal was on Tuesday, of last week, presented by the Alpena Cornet Band, to Mr. E. G. Howard, their skillful and popular leader. The gift consisted of a fine German Silver Cornet, valued at fifty dollars, of pure tone and beautiful workmanship. Neatly engraved upon a shield are the words: " Presented gether with its contents. to E. G. Howard, by the Alpena Cor-Dr. McSween will shortly take his net Band, June, 1871. Manufactured by Geo. F. Stratton & Co., N. Y."-No more beautiful or appropriate gift could have been selected, and we feel warranted in saying that the recipient, under whose skillful and tireless management the Alpena Cornet Band has won so excellent a reputation, was entirely worthy of the testimonal.

THE HOUSE OF A MR. HOY IN ASHES!

About 2 o'clock on Tuesday after noon an alarm of fire was given, and the steamer was immediately on the way to the scene of action, which was about half a mile south-west of the main part of the city. The woods had been fired west of this place, and a strong, westerly wind prevailing at the time, soon swept the flames to-Campbell's dock. It was some time after the engine arrived before any water could be thrown upon the fast spreading elements, owing to the shallowness of the water in the Bay .-But this obstacle was soon overcome. and heat were intense, and the brave utes at a time to hold the pipes before they had to be relieved by others. All supposed the fire to be in a position where it could be held, (it having reached the rear of the lots on the A. Case was on fire, some of the cinders having blown to the rear of the flames run from the ground, between the siding and plaster, to the garret, and when first seen the smoke was issuing from the roof. The streams were instantly turned upon the house, and it was the work of but a few mod, we believe, by insurance

After the fire in Mr. Case's house was put out, the firemen again turned their attetion to the burning woods, and all worked faithfully till about half-past 7 o'clock, when the fire was about subdued, and the firemen were tired out.

Some cinders were blown under the barn of Mr. Crowell, but were soon extinguished.

The residence of Mr. J. Hunt caught fire several times, but, we believe, sustained no serious damage.

The fire crossed the railroad used by Mr. Campell for conveying lumber from the mill to the dock, (a distance of about one mile,) burning and damaging it to the amount of about $150.

The steamer worked to perfection, and did better execution than many thought it capable of, thus saving an mmense amount of property.

Too much praise cannot be bestowed upon our worthy firemen, as they worked with a will, and to the satis faction of all.

It was thought at one time that another fire had broke out in the west part of the city, but fortunately it was only a rumor.

During the afternoon a dense smoke was seen north of the city, and in the evening our reporter learned that the residence of Wm. Waltenbury, a farmer, living three miles north of this city, had been burned to the ground, together with its contents, consisting of three barrels of flour, a large quanthe household furniture, etc. Even field. the hens, hogs and geese on the premrapidly did they spread. ground, the family barely escaping with their lives. Mr. Demster's loss is probably about $2,000.

The residents at Campbellville were all obliged to turn out and fight fire in order to save the mills and houses. At this writing the fire is still raging in different localities, and men are yet hard at work trying to subdue CONCERT .- Prof. Brockway's conert, last Friday evening, was attended by an audience of about two hundred. and we should judge that all were well satisfied with the evening's entertainment. Several times was the house "brought down" with loud and continued applause and a number of the parts were obliged to be repeated.

Excursion .- The Galena will make three excursion trips to Thunder Bay Island and other places on the upper part of Lake Huron, on Tuesday next. July 4th, accompained by the Alpena Cornet Band. She will leave T. Luce & Co's dock at nine o'clock in the forenoon, two o'clock in the afternoon, and seven in the evening. Fare, 50c.

Nam Stony .- Messrs. Gillett & Jeffers, formerly of Memphis, Mich., have rented the new store in the north end of Beebe's block, and are now putting in a fresh stock of groceries, provisions, flour, feed, etc., etc. They expect to have the establishment in good running order by Friday morning. See advertisement next week.

Scraps From Abroad.

The test of a party fidelity now is the favoring of the renomination of Grant. That is the first question asked when a candidate for appointment is suggested to the Executive.

The New York Sun says that as President "Mr. Greely would be a great improvement on Grant." It is generally conceded that any change would be an improvement.

The New York Tribune calls the was for the people, and they intend just such an accident shall occur in the election of a President in 1872.

The Radicals in Illinois are likely to have a warm time in selecting a candidate for Congressman at large in place of Logan, elected to the Senate. Almost every day develops a new aspirant for that position.

The New York Sun says Rhode Island has its "narrow-minded blockheads." In this State, according to Greeley, these fellows are editing Radical journals. The Sun does not explain their occupation in Rhode Island.

West Point is to have a colored cadet from Alabama. John M. Geer has been appointed to that position by Congressman Turner.

General Harlan, the Radical candidate for Governor of Kentucky, admits that the Ku-Klux law passed at a recent session of Congress is unconstitutional. Of course; he is too good a lawyer to hold otherwise. The New York Tribune alludes to Senator Carpenter, of Wisconsin, as a "pin feather popinjay." If it continues this kind of talk long Carpenter will not support Greeley's administra-
